These are letters from Dave Lifto to Barry Ernest. They go into a number of things. Those that interest memost are his bad advice to Barry, who was supposed to get the publicity material and picture of Youngblood from the publishers and his claim to have been on the staff of Ramparts.